Masterclass on Pulmonary Hypertension:

Hosted by the National Reference Centre for Pulmonary Hypertension in Le Kremlin-Bicêtre, France.

Masterclass Description:

The Pulmonary Hypertension Masterclass will be focused on recent advances in the diagnosis and management of pulmonary hypertension, covering topics such as anticoagulant and prostacyclin therapy, novel treatment pathways including TGF-beta and tyrosine kinase inhibitors, precision medicine and biomarkers, right heart failure management, and a multimodal approach to CTEPH

Masterclass Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this Masterclass, participants will have improved competence and professional performance in their ability to:

1. Understand the diagnostic strategy (including early detection, echocardiography, CT, MRI, right heart catheterization) in patients with pulmonary hypertension
2. Understand the management of patients with PAH
3. Understand the management of patients with common forms of PH (Group 2, 3, 4)
4. Recognize when referral to an expert center is necessary for further assessment and management of PH

Target Audience (Participant Profile):

Cardiologists, Rheumatologists, Pulmonologists, Internal Medicine Physicians. Masterclass is designed to be of benefit for health care professionals who are beyond the training stages of their careers.
